This species is rare in Greater Atlantic Region.

Leatherback
Dermochelys coriacea
- Carapace: dark grayblack with white spots; Plastron: white with dark blotches

Green
Chelonia mydas
- Carapace: brown with radiating streaks; Plastron: white to yellow

Hawksbill
Eretmochelys imbricata
- Carapace: tan, brown and black with random streaks; overlapping scutes; Plastron: cream with dark blotches

Loggerhead
Caretta caretta
- Carapace: red brown/dark brown; first costal scute is very small; Plastron: yellow/orange

Kemp's Ridley
Lepidochelys kempii
- Carapace: gray to light olive green; round; Plastron: white/yellow

This species is rare in Greater Atlantic Region.
All measurements should be recorded to the nearest 0.1 cm.

- Carapace Length Notch to Tip
- Carapace Length Notch to Notch
- Carapace Width Notch to Tip
- Curved
- Straight
- Body Depth
- PIT TAG